Press Release - Boca Raton, Florida, November 21st 2017

In response to its expansion, MaestroVision's US headquarters are moving to larger offices in Boca Raton, Florida.

MaestroVision is expanding in the United States. The new Boca Raton office in Florida will serve as a home port for its satellite offices in New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Dallas. "It takes a solid infrastructure and highly qualified employees to support such growth," reports Claude Turcotte President and CEO of MaestroVision. MaestroVision's technologies are now well established in the United States, and the company is seeking to fulfill the increasing demand. The new spaces will triple the number of employees in our Boca Raton offices. Hopefully, this will solve this situation which, after all, is a very nice problem to have!
